Dear Sirs/Madams,

I think it is abhorrent that anyone would try to limit how I spend my listening time and what I should listen to. If I wanted to listen to traffic weather or anything else for that matter on the FREE stations I would not have purchased XM.

I feel that I am buying back my time and my ability to have a choice by listening to XM with all their programming being listener driven. I don't like to hear the same forty or so hits on the radio ALL day. I don't like to hear all the gossip with my traffic and weather. Quite frankly I like the more thorough job that XM does at providing the content I need and want to hear. Stop listening to the Bullies! We have had enough of them and if they really want to compete, get in the race. Trying to destroy the competition in the pits has always been plain wrong and resulted in them being thrown out of the race all together. It is past time to throw them out!

Sincerely,
Reggie Colbert
